THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.
One of the largest meetings we have seen in California, assembled in the Plaza last evening, for the purpose of ratifying the nominations made by the Democratic Nominating Committee selected at the primary meeting. The proceedings will be found in another column.

There was a unanimity and determination manifested to support the nominees generally, that was exceedingly gratifying, and augurs well for the success of the ticket on Monday next. The enthusiasm which followed the condemnation of the independent ticket, shows that it will receive but a cold support from any portion of the Democratic party. And so far as the Whigs are concerned, they most certainly will not concur in it. Their game is, to commit as many Democrats in its favor as possible, and thus weaken our forces, and then quietly go to the polls and vote their own regularly nominated ticket. How far they will succeed remains to be seen. Union and harmony should characterize our action, and there is no fears of the result.

COMPLIMENTARY SUPPER TO E. C. KEMBLE, ESQ.—It having been announced that the senior Editor of the Alta California was to leave in the steamer of the first, to revisit the scenes of his early years, the editors of the city and country press, (several of the latter being here on a visit) determined to tender to that gentleman a supper, previous to his departure. This altogether impromptu affair came off with great éclat on Monday evening at Delmonico's, and was got up in a style of elegance for which this celebrated caterer is so world renowned. The crowded state of our columns precludes us from publishing the report of the "doings" till to-morrow.

CALIFORNIA LAWS.
A few complete volumes of the Laws, which had been sent to the binder, were saved from the fire, and may be obtained at this office. The set includes those published by Mr. Robinson, as well as the present State Printer, and numbers about 100 acts, and also includes a copy of the Constitution of the State, which is very scarce. These few volumes are all that were saved from destruction, and those who desire copies would do well to call immediately.

HOMEWARD BOUND.—There was an immense concourse of people on Cunningham's Wharf to witness the departure of the California yesterday evening. She had on board a full living freight of the "homeward bound," and in her cabins, up to the latest moment, were knots of friends interchanging adios, and washing down their regrets at parting in sparkling champagne, interspersed at proper intervals with toast and song. The "crowd of editors who accompanied Mr. Kemble to the steamer proved a very conspicuous group, and attracted no small share of attention. The noble steamer left the wharf at six o'clock amid the hearty cheers of a dense concourse of people.

OUR RECEPTION.—Though unprepared to print a large edition of the first number of our re-issue, yet we circulated twelve hundred copies in this city alone, and the general favor with which the News was received, affords us unspeakable gratification. One of these days we will give our friends a paper that will not compare unfavorably with any other in typographical beauty in the Union. But at present it is "Hobson's choice" with us.

ADVERTISERS.—The attention of the reader is called to the advertisement of Messrs. Kendig, Wainwright & Co. under the auction head. These gentlemen are doing an immense business, because they publish extensively in the papers. This is the true secret of success.

and enthusiastic meeting assembled last evening in the plaza, for the purpose of hearing the report of the Democratic Nominating Committee, and ratifying the nomination of candidates to be supported by the democratic party on Monday next.

The meeting was one of the largest we have ever seen in California, and the most entire union and harmony pervaded the assembly. The organization was perfected by the selection of the following officers:
President, Dr. Steven R. Harris.
Vice Presidents, Moses G. Leonard, S. Heydenfeldt, H. W. Carpenter, F. Tilford, Wilson Shannon, Myron Norton, Dr. McMillan, F. Randolph.
Secretaries, John E. Anderson, E. Joice, J. M. Huxley, H. S. Brown, C. A. Carter.

After the organization of the meeting, the assembled Democrats were addressed by Messrs. Carr and W. M. B. Howard, who urged upon the Democratic party the unanimous and energetic support of the entire ticket presented. It was important for many considerations. We should feel safer if we had a Democratic Legislature, in the event of our proposition for admission being sent back to the state, than though we were in Whig hands. Democrats should not give one inch in the contest, but go into it with a determination to succeed, and the result would be such as would satisfy every Democrat, and lay Whiggery in the dust.

After the conclusion of addresses by these gentlemen, the report of the Democratic Committee was read by Mr. E. Gallagher, and adopted by a hearty, deafening response. The report was as follows:
The Democratic Republican Nominating Committee, elected at the Primary Election, held on the 19th of September, to select delegates to a convention to nominate candidates to be voted for at the ensuing election, respectfully Report—

That they have, at different times, assembled together in the performance of the duties devolved upon them, and after due and deliberate consideration, have chosen the candidates now presented for your approbation. The Committee, fully impressed with the importance of their labors, and the high responsibility resting upon them, have endeavored to make such selections as would be worthy of, and command the confidence and support of the electors of San Francisco. In this effort, they confidently hope they have been successful; and in view of the necessity of sustaining the principles of the Democratic cause in California—acquired by a sacrifice of the wealth, the blood and treasure of a common country—and of opposing the efforts of the Federal party now becoming so arrogant and presumptuous in our new commonwealth, in the possession of Federal offices and Federal treasure—they submit the following named gentlemen, as candidates of the Democratic party, to the electors of this city and county, for their ratification and support:

[Here follows the ticket published in another part of our paper.]
The resolutions reported by the Committee, were then read by Mr. A. Smith, of New York, as follows:
Resolved, That, as a portion of the great Democratic party of the United States, through the comprehensive policy of which has been secured to us the enjoyment of this magnificent empire, we rejoice at the auspicious prospect of the speedy admission of California into the family of the States.

Resolved, That our principles, grounded as they are upon the inherent rights of men, can never become obsolete by any circumstance of time or place; and the same necessity which called us into being as a party, still exists in all its original strength.

Resolved, That, as to us mainly belongs the glory of the acquisition of the country, so to us attaches the responsibility of securing for it a destiny which shall be commensurate with the original design, and to this end we should lay the foundation of the new commonwealth broad and deep in the enlarged principles of our political faith.

Resolved, That we will sustain the nominations made in conformity with the usages of the party; and, devoted to the cause which we have so long and so ardently cherished, we call with confidence upon every Democrat to resist with united energies the vigorous efforts made by our political enemies to overthrow us. That a cheerful acquiescence in the will of the majority, is a cardinal principle of our creed, and one of the chief elements of Republicanism, without which Democracy loses its virtue and organization its efficiency. That by a faithful adherence to regular nomi-the principles be vacated, and the blessings of a free and enlightened government secured to the people; a departure from them is to give aid and comfort to the enemy, and endanger the success of our cause: the true disciples of our faith will never thus betray the citadel of Democracy into the hands of its unpromising foes.

Resolved, That the ticket now presented by the Democratic Convention contains the names of those whom the people have before honored with their approving voices—of men in every way deserving of our confidence, and that the whole ticket shall receive our faithful, energetic, and undivided support.

Resolved, That we hail with unfeigned pleasure the re-appearance of the "Pacific News," and congratulate our Democratic fellow-citizens upon its revival; rising with unexampled energy from the ashes, we hail it as the harbinger of success to the Democratic Republican party, whose faithful sentinel and able advocate it is.

At the conclusion of the reading, a motion was made to adopt the resolutions, and carried without a dissenting voice.

In answer to a call from the meeting, Hon. J. B. Weller came forward, and vindicated himself from the charge that he designed to support the mongrel independent ticket nominated at a small gathering in the District Court Room. He said the Whig party, by the arrogance and abuse of its organ, had forced the Democratic party to draw the lines of demarkation, and we should now go into the contest and manfully and nobly support the nominees of the party. He had been charged with advising the formation of an independent Government in California, and the seizure of the treasure in her vaults, and thus disgrace the flag which he had helped to carry where some of that party dare not go. He repudiated any such idea. He was a law-abiding citizen, and as such, would prefer to trust the destinies of California in the hands of the Democratic party. California was democratic by nature; it was a hard money and free trade country, and should be kept Democratic in all future time by the united, energetic action of the old Republican phalanx.

The address of Col. Weller was frequently interrupted by loud and repeated applause. He was followed by Alanson Smith, Esq., of New York, and Chas. M. Botts, Esq., who each eloquently and ably advocated the election of the regular Democratic ticket.

The meeting was harmonious, united and determined, and if we form any opinion of the feeling of the Democracy, by the enthusiasm manifested, each and every one will be found working shoulder to shoulder, as in the older States, for the triumph of Democratic candidates and measures.

☆ The Pacifune of yesterday has a long leader on political affairs, in which it is asserted that "it is not on party grounds that the questions now at issue shall be decided by the people." We should like to have the editor of the "Pic." tell us on what grounds one of the proprietors of that journal expects to be elected to the legislature, if not on party grounds; and whether an adherence to the ticket which contains his name as a regular nominee is a question of no interest to him? It is possible that the democracy may have been unfortunate in one of its nominations, at least; for the course taken by the Pacifune is calculated to injure and distract rather than strengthen the party. For ourselves we do not feel called upon to work for any candidate who is either doing all he can to break down our organization, or gives aid and comfort to the enemy. It is a good rule to "help those who help us," and we mean to apply it hereafter on all fitting occasions. There may be times when "scratching" is justifiable. "We want men of honor and principle, and not old political hacks for our vacant offices."

ROBBERY.—The trunk of a gentleman occupying a room in Clay street, was opened yesterday afternoon, and robbed of about $1,700. He had stepped out for a moment, and on his return, found his money belt on the floor, and the money gone. About $70 was in silver, the remainder in gold.

☆ The independent candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been in the State of California but two or three months, and by our laws is neither a voter nor eligible to office, though a very worthy and competent man. Of course to vote for him will be to throw away your ballots.

REPORTS.—DISTRICT COURT.
His Honor, Judge Watson, of San Jose District, presiding.

Tuesday morning, Oct. 1, 1850.
James M. Hudsbeth, vs. J. B. Steinberger and C. H. West—judgment by default against defendants.

I. G. Sloana vs. Wm T. Mills—same judgment.

Charles A. Miller vs. Wm T. Mills same judgment.

Burgoyne & Plume vs. Alfred Melhado—judgment final by consent, for possession of property sued for in ejectment.

Charles Brown vs. M. C. O'Connor—application to stay proceedings in virtue of writ of possession—dismissed.

Wm C. Fay and Hyde vs. Augustus Hall.—On trial at 12 1/2 P. M.

SUPERIOR COURT.—His Honor, Chief Justice Morse, Associate Justices Murray and Smith, presiding.

Burgoyne & Plume vs. Chas and Daniel Melhado. Judgment final by consent, for possession of property sued for in ejectment.

Franklin vs. Joseph, et al. Time for filing bill of exception, exceptions extended five days.

Corcles, Steffins & Co vs. Bechrens. On trial before a jury.

Recorder's Court.—Before Hon. Judge Tilford.

Miss Louisa Taylor was brought into court on a charge of robbing William Miller of $150, in gold. As the charge could not be substantiated, she was discharged.

Charles Elm, for indulging too freely was fined $10.

A man by the name of Kelly was brought up, charged with interrupting the police in the execution of their duty. There being some extenuating circumstances, he was fined $5.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.—The following is copied from the last number of the Stockton Times, and the remarks of the editor touching the fitness of the regular nominee of the democratic party in this city for the above office, are well deserved and just. Mr. Tracy possesses the confidence of his party, and the esteem of a large circle of personal friends:
"No office will be more closely contested at the ensuing election than that of Superintendent of Public Instruction; there is no office so important; no office of greater responsibility; and yet but little inquiry is made as to the capacities of the respective candidates. It appears that any man, who may be unfit for any other office, will do for this, so that he be a respectable, quiet-going individual—harmless and well-meaning. Now this should not be the case; we want an active, efficient man; a scholar, a man of intelligence, a close observer of human nature; a man who by actual observation has made himself acquainted with the system of education in other countries. We vote too strongly for our friends in this country; our sense of public duty is lost in the strength of our private feelings. Let us support efficient men, be they friends or foes.
"We would warmly recommend to the notice of our readers, Mr. E. P. Tracy, of San Francisco, in whom all the qualities related above are combined. He is recommended by the most respectable men in San Francisco; he has travelled throughout the States and Europe, and has had rare opportunities of examining the different systems of education, a subject to which his sympathies have always been wedded. He, moreover, has received a regular scholastic education; and in every way, comes before the public with all the necessary qualifications for the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction."

☆ Speaking of the pleasant affair that came off on Monday night at Delmonico's, in compliment to the senior editor of the Alta, who left in the California yesterday, our sprightly neighbor over on the corner says, that the proceedings were expected by them for their yesterday's issue, "but they were withheld, for reasons that we can understand." If by this remark the Pic. means to insinuate that there was a strong suspicion of "a brick" in somebody's hat, we don't know that an alibi could be proved (touching the brick aforesaid)—at least not by any of the fraternity present on the occasion. That there was any other reason we beg to deny—it was pure obnoxiousness, 'pon honor; "nary thing else."

☆ The communication of "Loco Foco" will appear to-morrow. Correspondents must be as brief as possible, for our type and space won't permit long articles, nor will the people read them.

CITY IMPROVEMENTS.—No one who walks far abroad, at least if he extends his walk to the distance of one square or less, can fail to become aware of the great up-turning in affairs to be witnessed in our day, before our very eyes, yea, beneath our very feet. These are what were to be expected in the last days; but they come upon us in San Francisco at the very outset, and the whole city is nearly startled out of its propriety thereby.

We do not wish to see these improvements retarded, and hope they may all come out right, but it is good doctrine, handed down from the fathers, to make haste slowly.

The streets need to be planked. We have advocated this loud and long. And to secure this, grading is absolutely necessary. But a limit is to be put to all this somewhere. The other day we heard a property holder swearing that he would not pay a dollar for improvements down in town, unless they were extended to him, so that his property might be made valuable.

This, too, is good democratic doctrine; but we fear it may be carried too far, as our Whig friends in Pennsylvania once did.

We do not regard it as perfectly safe, experience has almost always been against it, for the present generation to saddle a debt upon those who are to come after them. And yet this is precisely what is now doing by our wise city fathers. It was urged by a speaker in the Board of Assistant Aldermen, that by effecting a loan we could have schools, and planked streets, and every element of prosperity, which those who succeed us may pay for.

Now this all may be very well. But it is new to our democratic sense. What but present aggrandisement and a sorry load of debt for the future does it contemplate? Let no crude and party scheme be entered upon now, which it will require long years of future repentings to blot out. For our own part we cannot conceive it incumbent on those who come after us to pay our indebtedness. We heartily abhor the whole doctrine.

THE PHENIX.—This bird, the ancients say, used to die at certain periods, of old age, and after a time, revivify and come forth from its remains fresher and fairer than ever. Now, as to newspapers rising anew from their ashes after a fire, we confess that it is not altogether a parallel case. For, in the first place, before the fire, we hadn't become 'old' and 'ready to vanish away.' Nor, in the second place, do we find ourselves since the fire, in a newer and more beautiful form, but, on the contrary, in one far worse than ever. So then, we conclude henceforth to say no more about phenixes, believing it a misuse of the beautiful fictions of the ancients, so to apply them.

THE UMPQUA MOVEMENT IN OREGON.—By the mail from Oregon, we learn that this hitherto neglected corner of the territory is beginning to attract the attention which its merits deserve.

Jesse Applegate, Esq., Mr. Scott, and many other eminent citizens had removed to this part of the country with their families, preferring it to every other after a full acquaintance with every section of the land. This alone speaks volumes in its favor.

We learn that the enterprising firm of Winchester, Paine & Co., foot of Washington street, will soon despatch another vessel for Umpqua City.

DEATHS AT SACRAMENTO.—For the week ending Saturday last, a larger number of deaths occurred in Sacramento, than in any previous week for some time. This is attributed to the large influx of immigrants from the plains, among whom great mortality has prevailed. The Transcript gives the following as the number and diseases: consumption 3, typhoid fever 4, congestive fever 2, dysenteric fever 2, fever 1, diarrhoea and dysentery 2, erysipelas 1, drownd 2, disease unknown 4; total 21.

SUPPOSED TO BE DROWNED.—On Tuesday of last week, a man named Daniel May, went into the water at North Beach, for the purpose of bathing. Some little time afterwards his clothes were discovered on the beach, and a party of friends, supposing him to have been drowned, made an unsuccessful search for the body. He was formerly from the county of Wicklow, Ireland, but more recently from New York.

SNORING.—As we were going home from our labors Monday night, some gentleman in the city lodging house, the Plaza, snored so loud as to wake his fellow-lodgers on the steps of the city hotel.

A SALUTARY CAUTION.—A somewhat curious and important case was tried in the District Court on Thursday last, before Judge Watson and a jury; and as it may be a salutary caution to inexperienced money-lenders, we think it deserves a more specific notice than it has yet received through the medium of the press. The parties in this action were H. G. Gordon and Charles L. Ross. The plaintiff sued for fees for services rendered by him, as an attorney and conveyancer. The defendant pleaded that he did not employ the plaintiff, and further, that plaintiff was a foreigner, and so was not entitled to practice as an attorney at law and conveyancer. The plaintiff put in evidence the certificate of the Supreme Court of this State, dated 17th April last, showing that the plaintiff, on the motion of Gregory Yale, Esq., was admitted a counsellor and attorney at law, and duly authorized to practice as such in all the courts of this State. The facts established by the evidence were: that in the early part of this year, the defendant induced one Kelly, a baker in San Francisco, to lend him $9,500 on security of certain property which defendant declared to be free from mortgage or incumbrance, and so covenanted in the mortgage deed. Some time after, the defendant obtained from another baker named Galloway, a sum of $9000 on certain other property, the mortgage for which was drawn by the defendant, or his clerk in defendant's counting room, without the interposition of any counsel or friend on Galloway's behalf. The interest on Kelly's mortgage being long over-due, he applied to the plaintiff to take measures for foreclosing the mortgage; and the plaintiff, having some suspicion, searched the records of title, and there found that shortly previous to the loan by Kelly, the defendant had mortgaged the identical property for $16,000, its full value! This discovery led to numerous interviews between the plaintiff and the defendant, and to the arrangement of the business by the defendant's executing conveyances of other property, &c. This arrangement was scarcely consummated, when Galloway came to the plaintiff on the subject of his mortgage; and upon searching the records, the plaintiff found that the property included in it was also liable to a previous mortgage made upon it by defendant. The plaintiff brought about another arrangement, by obtaining the conveyance to Galloway of property not incumbered though greatly inadequate in value to his principal sum and interest, $11,000. For part compensation for these services, the plaintiff had been paid $250 by Kelly, and had charged $100 against Galloway, but had not received it; and plaintiff now sought to recover from defendant his proportion of the charges. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $173. Counsel for the plaintiff, Nunes; for the defendant, Hager. Such a case needs little comment; it bears the evidence of mala fides on the part of the defendant on the face of it from beginning to end. Verily, hard-working and inexperienced men, who by their industry and frugality have made a little money, should be very cautious how and to whom they lend it, and what sort of lawyers they employ to secure their interest in the transaction.—[Jour. of Com.

BAD FLOUR—BAD BREAD.
Bread has well been termed "the staff of life," and bad bread is like a broken staff, which penetrates the vitals of him who would lean on it for support.

There is in our market, as all are aware, a large quantity of American flour, which has been brought around the Horn, and is of course spoiled. So well aware are the miners of this, that a pound of it cannot be sold to any one of them. No up country merchant would think of it. A good article they can and will have. They bring the ore to pay for the same, and to them it goes.

As a consequence of this state of things, all the bad, worthless flour is thrown back upon this city for home consumption. Mercenary bakers buy it up cheap, mix it with molasses for cakes, or chemicals to make "light bread," and down it goes into the stomachs of the poor and the hungry here, carrying with it the seeds of death.

Now, this is damning. We will, if furnished with the name of any baker who uses good flour, and that alone, cheerfully publish him. And on the other hand we will gladly publish the names of any which may be furnished us, and there are scores of them, who habitually work up vile and rotten flour, to send abroad disease and death among our citizens. Who'll give us the names? This is as crying an evil as that of bad meat, or the fleas.

ANECDOTE OF AN EX GOVERNOR.—We yesterday published a good anecdote of the arrest of President Tyler under suspicious circumstances, which reminds us of a joke played upon Governor Seward, while he had the honor of presiding as the executive of New York. Travelling in one of the back counties, before railroads run to almost every man's door, he waited impatiently at a country tavern for the arrival of the stage. That vehicle finally made its appearance, but the inside was entirely filled, not even room for a man as small in size as the ex-Governor. The driver refused to take him, and in order to secure a passage, Mr. Seward announced himself as the Governor of the state; but the driver was not to be humbugged by what he considered a bold falsehood. He, however, finally yielded so far as to consent to his taking a seat on top of the stage, which he reluctantly did, and was the object of the jeers of the inside passengers, for a long distance. Seeing an individual of his acquaintance approaching, he thought to satisfy his fellow passengers, and escape their jokes. The driver held up at his request, and after exchanging salutations, the Governor requested that his friend would tell them that he was the Governor of New York. "No, you are not," said the judge. "Who is, then?" was the demand of the amazed Executive. "Thurloe Weed, by thunder!" was the reply, and hitting his horse a cut, away he went, leaving the Governor to the railway of his fellow passengers for the remainder of the journey.

Those who know the rod of iron with which Mr. Weed ruled during Mr. Seward's administration will better appreciate the force of the old fellow's reply.

THE WINDMILL.—For some little time now, the dwellers in San Francisco have been observing with more or less surprise, the gyrations of a strange machine, situated on one of the heights to the north of the town: This turns out to be no more nor less than a windmill, though it is precisely like what Don Quixote, in the days of declining chivalry, mistook for a giant. And a giant this same windmill may be for aught we know, for we undertook, in prolonging our walks the other evening, to inspect it more closely, but as the gentleman at the door happened to say there was no admittance, and we remembered the fate of poor Don Q. to attempt to force it, we prudently withdrew. Furthermore, it is said that the windmill and telegraph are both so high as to be "out of the country," and of course they have no taxes to pay, and do not care to extend their business by advertising. We would then merely venture to suggest that the former shorten sail when the wind blows too hard, and that the latter keep a sharp lookout o' dark nights to prevent falling.

THE SQUATTERS.—The Squatters, it appears, have had a meeting, at which they took measures to present a ticket to the voters of the county, for the several offices to be filled. From a handbill before us, it appears that the meeting was held at the house of A. D. Patterson, some eight or ten miles above, on the American river, on the 25th inst. Among the candidates named, we observe several who have never been identified with their cause in any manner or shape. We presume the settlers placed these names in the proximity we find them, simply to fill up their ticket.

The following is the ticket as we find it on the handbill before us: Clerk of the Supreme Court—E. H. Tharp. Attorney-General—E. B. Cone. District Attorney—Wm. C. Wallace. Superintendent of Public Instruction—C. W. Butterfield. Senator—J. H. McKune. Members of Assembly—James Carrio, A. D. Patterson, Charles Robinson.—[Transcript.]

"The editor of the Pittsburg Post says he saw three ladies travelling down Smithfield street, with cigars in their mouths."

This is as bad as our Spanish and Mexican senoritas, who go into the street and the ball rooms, with their cigarritas, puffing them with as much seeming satisfaction as an old smoker of the opposite gender.

Believing that the Rev. B. Brierly, late joint Chaplain to the Senate and Assembly, would faithfully and efficiently discharge the duties of Superintendent of Public Instruction, if elected, we cheerfully ask for him the votes of our fellow citizens. Being a resident among us, he knows our wants. For years connected in various ways with the interests of education, he has ample experience. Himself a father, with children to be instructed in the schools of our State, his interests are identified with those of the parents and friends of education in the state. Energetic and trustworthy, the educational interests of the state will be safe in his hands.

JONES' GRAND REAL ESTATE LOTTERY.

The largest Real Estate Lottery ever held in the United States—of 500 Lots, with the Improvements, in the city of San Francisco.

500 Prizes of One Lot each.
THE LOTS and Improvements vary in value from the capital Price of $50,000 down. The property is divided into Four Thousand shares or tickets of $100 each, so that on an average one in every eight shares is almost certain of drawing some one of the prizes.

The plan of Drawing will be as follows, viz: The last drawn number will be entitled to the highest prize; the number drawn next to the last will be entitled to the next highest prize, and so on, to the number of Twelve of the highest prizes. The other 488 prizes will be drawn indiscriminately from one glass wheel, while the numbers of the tickets are drawn from another wheel against them, so that when the number of a ticket is drawn, the tickets drawn from the other will contain the description of the lot which the holder of the ticket is entitled to, or some other equally simple mode will be adopted.

The drawing will be in public, so that the ticket holders may see that it is properly conducted.

The lots are the property of Dr. Elbert P. Jones, he having acquired most of them several years since. The titles are indisputable. Warrantee titles with possession will be given immediately after the drawing. The taxes of every description have been paid on all this property, so that the fortunate drawers will have their lots free of all those charges for one year.

The whole property is put up at a remarkably low cash valuation, as the water lots, with eight or ten others in the list are worth the whole amount of the money.

The locality of a portion of the lots will be found below. Full catalogues and plans may be seen at our Auction Room, 276 Montgomery street, viz:

Lot in block corner of California and Kearny streets, 57 1/2 feet front by 137 1/2 feet deep, with the large splendid three story banking house and improvements, now occupied by E. P. Jones.

Lot with warehouse on Washington street between Montgomery and Sansome streets, front on Washington 28 ft by 80 ft deep, with an L 20 by 45 ft, fronts on Jones alley.

Lot on corner Pacific and Battery sts; 4 lots adjoining on Pacific st, all piled and capped ready for buildings.

2 lots on Battery rd, adjoining the above, next to the new Iron Custom house.

2 lots south of Iron Custom house.
